How to Use This Log Book

Make every fishing trip count

WHY KEEP A FISHING LOG?

The difference between catching fish once and catching them consistently is data. A log helps you spot patterns — which baits work at certain temperatures, which spots produce at dawn vs. dusk, how weather and moon phase affect the bite. Over time, your log becomes your personal fishing intelligence.

Tips for Effective Logging

- 1. Log right after each trip. Memory fades fast. Record the details while they are fresh — the more you write now, the better your future trips will be.
- 2. Note the conditions. Weather, water temperature, wind, and barometric pressure are just as important as what you caught. These are the clues that reveal patterns.
- 3. Record the misses too. Fish that followed, bumped, or short-struck your bait are valuable data. Next time, you will know to adjust your retrieve or bait size.
- 4. Track your tackle. Knowing what is in your box saves money and prevents over-buying. The tackle inventory section helps you stay organized.
- 5. Use the species checklist. Mark off new species as you catch them. Building a life list is one of the great joys of fishing.

Pro Tip: Take a quick photo of each log page with your phone before heading home. If you ever lose the book, your data is safe.

Essential Fishing Knots

The six knots every angler should know

Improved Clinch Knot

The most popular fishing knot. Reliable for tying line to hooks, lures, and swivels. Works best with monofilament and fluorocarbon up to 20 lb test.

Best for: Live bait rigs, spinners, small lures

Palomar Knot

Incredibly strong and simple. One of the strongest knots for braided line. Nearly 100% line strength when tied correctly.

Best for: Braided line, drop-shot rigs, jig heads

Uni Knot (Duncan Loop)

Versatile knot that works for tying to hooks, joining lines, or securing line to a reel spool. Can be used with all line types.

Best for: General purpose, line-to-line connections

Blood Knot

The standard knot for joining two pieces of similar-diameter line. Essential for building leaders and tapered rigs.

Best for: Fly fishing leaders, connecting tippet

Snell Knot

Aligns the hook point with the line pull for maximum hook-setting power. Preferred by catfish and saltwater anglers.

Best for: Circle hooks, live bait fishing

Loop Knot

Creates a flexible connection that lets lures and flies move more naturally. Crucial for fly fishing and jigging.

Best for: Flies, jigs, swimbaits

Freshwater Species Guide

Know your target — habitat and habits

Largemouth Bass	Most popular game fish in North America. Found in lakes, ponds, and slow rivers. Aggressive striker, strong fighter.
Smallmouth Bass	Prefers cooler, clearer water with rocky or gravel bottoms. Known for acrobatic fights and power.
Walleye	Prime table fish. Active at dusk and dawn. Found in deep lakes and rivers with moderate current.
Northern Pike	Aggressive predator with sharp teeth. Found in weedy lakes and slow rivers. Use wire leaders.
Rainbow Trout	Popular in streams, rivers, and lakes. Takes flies, spinners, and bait. Acrobatic fighter.
Brown Trout	Wary and challenging. Prefers clear, cool streams. More active at night and in low light.
Brook Trout	Beautiful native trout of cold, clean mountain streams. Sensitive to water temperature.
Crappie (Black & White)	Schooling panfish. Spring spawners. Jigs and minnows are go-to baits. Excellent eating.
Bluegill / Sunfish	Common panfish found in nearly every freshwater body. Great for beginners and kids.
Channel Catfish	Bottom feeder with excellent sense of smell. Active at night. Use stink baits and cut bait.
Striped Bass	Anadromous powerhouse. Caught in coastal waters, estuaries, and large reservoirs.
Muskellunge (Musky)	The fish of ten thousand casts. Apex predator. Requires heavy tackle and endless patience.

Saltwater Species Guide

Inshore and offshore favorites

Redfish (Red Drum)	Shallow-water powerhouse of the Gulf and Atlantic coasts. Sight-fishing gold. Gold spoons and soft plastics.
Speckled Trout (Spotted Sea Trout)	Popular inshore target from Maryland to Texas. Active at dawn and dusk. Soft plastics and topwater.
Snook	Tropical and subtropical game fish. Found around docks, bridges, and inlets. Strong runs and jumps.
Tarpon	The silver king. Massive, acrobatic fighter. Catch and release only in most areas. Needs heavy gear.
Flounder	Bottom-dwelling flatfish. Ambush predator. Mud minnows and jigs bounced on the bottom.
Striped Bass (Saltwater)	Migratory coastal fish. Surf, boat, and pier fishing. Eels, plugs, and bucktails.
Mahi-Mahi (Dolphinfish)	Offshore speedster. Brilliant colors. Found near floating structure. Trolling ballyhoo.
Red Snapper	Reef fish prized for both sport and table. Found over structure. Cut bait and vertical jigs.
King Mackerel (Kingfish)	Fast, toothy offshore predator. Trolled live bait or frozen cigar minnows. Wire leader essential.
Sea Bass (Black Sea Bass)	Reef and wreck dweller. Aggressive striker on squid and clams. Great eating.
Cobia	Roving predator often sighted near the surface or following rays. Live eels and jigs.
Yellowfin Tuna	Deep-water powerhouse. High-speed trolling and chunking. Requires heavy stand-up gear.

Fishing Calendar

What to expect each month of the year

JANUARY	Cold water slows fish metabolism. Focus on deep holes and slow presentations. Ice fishing season in the north.
FEBRUARY	Pre-spawn staging begins in southern waters. Fish move toward shallows on warm afternoons. Slow retrieves still key.
MARCH	Spring awakening. Bass and crappie move shallow as water warms. Trout become more active. Great month for jigs.
APRIL	Spawn season for bass and crappie in many regions. Sight fishing opportunities. Walleye run in rivers.
MAY	Peak spawn for many species. Bluegill on beds. Trout fishing excellent. Topwater bites beginning.
JUNE	Post-spawn feeding frenzy. Fish are hungry and aggressive. Excellent month for topwater lures at dawn and dusk.
JULY	Summer patterns. Early morning and late evening are best. Night fishing for catfish and stripers heats up.
AUGUST	Dog days. Fish deep or fish at night. Thermocline fishing for walleye and trout. Offshore pelagics at peak.
SEPTEMBER	Fall transition begins. Cooling water triggers feeding. Bass and walleye active. Hunting season overlap begins.
OCTOBER	Prime fall fishing. Fish binge-feed before winter. Crankbaits and swimbaits excel. Trout streams at their best.
NOVEMBER	Late fall bite still strong. Stripers and musky peak. Deep-water jigging for walleye. Fewer crowds.
DECEMBER	Winter patterns set in. Ice fishing begins up north. Southern saltwater remains productive. Slow presentations.
