How to Use This Journal

Build your personal crystal encyclopedia

WHY KEEP A CRYSTAL JOURNAL?

A journal transforms a random collection into a curated reference. By recording where you found each specimen, its physical and metaphysical properties, and your personal experiences, you build a database that grows more valuable with every entry. Your journal becomes your own crystal grimoire.

Tips for Better Collecting

- 1. Document on arrival. When you acquire a new specimen, log it immediately while details are fresh. Record where you got it, how much you paid, and your first impressions. Provenance adds value and meaning.
- 2. Photograph your collection. A quick photo alongside each entry creates a visual record for insurance, reference, and sharing. Natural daylight shows true colors best.
- 3. Trust your experience. Reference books describe general properties, but your personal connection matters most. Note how each stone feels in your hand, what thoughts or sensations arise, and how you use it.
- 4. Cleanse and charge regularly. Crystals absorb energy. Record when and how you cleanse them (moonlight, sunlight, sound, smoke, earth) and notice if their energy shifts afterward.
- 5. Handle with knowledge. Some crystals are fragile, water-soluble, or light-sensitive. Understanding each specimen's physical properties ensures your collection lasts for generations.

A Note on Metaphysical Properties: The information in this journal is for personal reference and entertainment. Crystal healing is a complementary practice and not a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment.

Mohs Hardness Scale

The 10-point mineral scratch resistance scale

HARDNESS	REFERENCE MINERAL	COMMON GEMS	NOTES
1	Talc	Soapstone	Very soft, scratches with fingernail
2	Gypsum	Selenite, Satin Spar	Scratches with fingernail
3	Calcite	Calcite, Limestone, Marble	Scratches with copper coin
4	Fluorite	Fluorite	Scratches with steel knife
5	Apatite	Apatite	Scratches with knife with difficulty
6	Orthoclase	Moonstone, Sunstone, Amazonite	Scratches glass
7	Quartz	Amethyst, Citrine, Clear Quartz, Rose Quartz, Smoky Quartz, Agate, Jasper, Tiger's Eye	Scratches steel easily
8	Topaz	Topaz, Spinel	Very hard, scratches quartz
9	Corundum	Ruby, Sapphire	Extremely hard, scratches topaz
10	Diamond	Diamond	Hardest natural mineral

CARE IMPLICATIONS:

Stones below 5 on the Mohs scale should not be cleaned in water for long periods or tumbled with harder stones. Stones rated 7+ are generally durable for daily wear and water cleansing. Opal (5.5-6.5) is fragile and can crack if exposed to sudden temperature changes.

Crystal Systems

The seven geometric patterns of mineral formation

CUBIC (ISOMETRIC)

Equal-length axes at 90° . Symmetrical, often cube or octahedron. Examples: Diamond, Pyrite, Fluorite, Garnet, Galena, Halite, Magnetite, Pyrite.

HEXAGONAL

Three equal axes at 120° , one vertical axis. Six-sided prisms. Examples: Apatite, Beryl (Aquamarine, Emerald), Benitoite.

TRIGONAL (RHOMBOHEDRAL)

Modified hexagonal — threefold symmetry. Triangular cross-sections. Examples: All Quartz varieties, Calcite, Tourmaline, Corundum (Ruby/Sapphire), Hematite.

TETRAGONAL

Two equal horizontal axes, one different vertical, all at 90° . Rectangular prisms. Examples: Zircon, Rutile, Vesuvianite, Scapolite.

ORTHORHOMBIC

Three unequal axes at 90° . Rhombic prisms. Examples: Olivine (Peridot), Topaz, Tanzanite, Iolite, Celestite, Danburite, Aragonite.

MONOCLINIC

Three unequal axes, two at 90° , one oblique. Examples: Gypsum (Selenite), Orthoclase (Moonstone), Jadeite, Spodumene (Kunzite), Azurite, Malachite.

TRICLINIC

Three unequal axes, none at right angles. Least symmetrical. Examples: Plagioclase Feldspar (Labradorite, Sunstone), Kyanite, Turquoise, Rhodonite, Amazonite.

Crystal system describes the internal atomic arrangement that determines a mineral's outward shape. The same mineral always forms in the same system — quartz is always trigonal, no matter where it is found.

Chakras & Crystal Colors

Match stones to energy centers by color

ROOT	SACRAL	SOLAR	HEART	THROAT	THIRD EYE	CROWN
CHAKRA	COLOR	LOCATION	REPRESENTATIVE STONES
Root	Red / Black	Base of spine	Garnet, Red Jasper, Black Tourmaline, Hematite, Obsidian, Smoky Quartz
Sacral	Orange	Lower abdomen	Carnelian, Orange Calcite, Sunstone, Peach Moonstone, Tiger's Eye
Solar Plexus	Yellow / Gold	Upper abdomen	Citrine, Yellow Jasper, Pyrite, Tiger's Eye, Amber, Golden Topaz
Heart	Green / Pink	Center of chest	Rose Quartz, Green Aventurine, Jade, Emerald, Malachite, Rhodonite, Unakite
Throat	Blue	Throat	Sodalite, Lapis Lazuli, Aquamarine, Blue Lace Agate, Turquoise, Angelite
Third Eye	Indigo / Purple	Forehead	Amethyst, Fluorite, Iolite, Lepidolite, Sugilite, Purple Sapphire
Crown	Violet / White	Top of head	Clear Quartz, Selenite, Howlite, Moonstone, Diamond, Ametrine

Color matching is a simple starting point: stones of the corresponding color tend to resonate with that chakra. Some stones work with multiple chakras (e.g., Clear Quartz amplifies all). Trust your intuition when selecting stones.

Cleansing & Charging Methods

Keep your crystals energetically clear

Moonlight

Place crystals outside or on a windowsill overnight, especially during a full moon. Gentle and safe for all stones. Best done monthly.

Sunlight

Brief sun exposure energizes and cleanses. Caution: some stones fade in sunlight (Amethyst, Citrine, Rose Quartz, Fluorite, Aquamarine, Kunzite). Limit to 1-2 hours.

Running Water

Hold under cool running water for 1-2 minutes to wash away accumulated energy. Safe for stones rated 6+ on Mohs scale. Never use water with Selenite, Halite, Calcite, or Angelite — they will dissolve.

Sound

Use singing bowls, bells, tuning forks, or chanting. Sound vibrations clear energy without physical contact. Excellent for fragile or water-sensitive stones.

Smoke (Smudging)

Pass crystals through the smoke of sage, palo santo, cedar, or sweetgrass. Traditional and effective. Ensure good ventilation.

Earth Burial

Bury crystals in soil for 24 hours to a week to ground and reset their energy. Mark the spot clearly. Deeply cleansing but requires patience.

Salt

Place crystals on or near a bed of dry sea salt or Himalayan salt. Salt absorbs negative energy. Do not let soft or porous stones (under Mohs 5) directly touch salt.

Other Crystals

Clear Quartz, Selenite, and Carnelian are self-cleansing and can cleanse other stones. Place smaller stones on a Clear Quartz cluster or Selenite plate overnight.

Remember: Cleanse new crystals before first use, after heavy use or emotional work, and at least monthly. Charging (adding positive energy) follows cleansing — sunlight, moonlight, or intention are common charging methods.

Safety & Care Guidelines

Protect your collection and yourself

Water-Soluble Stones

Never soak or rinse with water: Selenite, Halite (rock salt), Calcite, Angelite, Malachite, Turquoise, Pyrite (can rust), Lepidolite. These dissolve, tarnish, or degrade with water exposure.

Sunlight-Fading Stones

Keep out of direct prolonged sunlight to prevent color loss: Amethyst, Citrine, Rose Quartz, Smoky Quartz, Fluorite, Aquamarine, Kunzite, Hiddenite, Topaz (some).

Toxic Minerals (Do Not Make Elixirs)

Never put in drinking water or handle with bare hands then eat: Malachite, Pyrite, Galena, Cinnabar, Realgar, Orpiment, Stibnite, Chrysocolla, Amazonite (may contain copper), Copper minerals generally. If making gem elixirs, use the indirect method (stone in a separate glass inside the water).

Fragile / Heat-Sensitive

Opal can crack with temperature changes. Amber and Jet melt with heat. Kyanite has perfect cleavage and splits easily. Selenite scratches easily (Mohs 2). Handle with care.

Soft Stones (Under Mohs 5)

Scratch easily and should not be stored with harder stones. Keep separately wrapped: Selenite (2), Gypsum (2), Calcite (3), Fluorite (4). Use soft pouches or individual compartments.

Dust & Storage

Dust can scratch soft stones over time. Store in closed cabinets, display cases, or cloth-lined boxes. Keep silica gel packets nearby in humid climates to prevent damage to moisture-sensitive stones.

Important: Crystal healing properties described in this journal are for personal reference and entertainment only. They are not a substitute for professional medical advice, diagnosis, or treatment. Always research a mineral's safety before any use beyond display.
