MY READING MOTTO

How to Use This Journal

Make every book an experience worth remembering

WHY KEEP A READING JOURNAL?

A reading journal transforms books from fleeting experiences into a lasting personal library of thought. It helps you remember what you read, discover patterns in your taste, track your growth as a reader, and build a list of recommendations you can share with friends for years to come.

Tips for Better Reading

- 1. Write while it's fresh. Record your thoughts within a day or two of finishing. The emotions and impressions fade quickly — capture them while the story still lives in your mind.
- 2. Note your favorite quotes. Copy passages that moved you. Years later, these quotes become a map of who you were and what mattered to you at each stage of life.
- 3. Track patterns. Over time, your journal reveals what genres, themes, and authors you truly love — not just what you think you should read.
- 4. Rate honestly. Don't feel pressured to love a book because others did. Your honest rating helps you choose better books in the future.
- 5. Set a goal. Whether it is 12 books a year or 100, a reading goal creates momentum. Use the tracker pages to stay motivated.

Reading Tip: Keep a small notebook or app handy while reading to jot down page numbers and quotes. Transfer them to this journal when you finish.

Genre Guide

Explore new worlds of reading

Literary Fiction	Character-driven stories exploring the human condition. Rich prose, complex themes. Think Toni Morrison, Kazuo Ishiguro, Marilynne Robinson.
Mystery & Thriller	Suspenseful plots with puzzles, crime, and tension. From cozy mysteries to psychological thrillers. Agatha Christie, Gillian Flynn, Tana French.
Science Fiction	Speculative futures, alternate realities, technology. Hard sci-fi to space opera. Isaac Asimov, Ursula K. Le Guin, Andy Weir.
Fantasy	Imagined worlds with magic, mythology, and epic quests. Brandon Sanderson, N.K. Jemisin, Patrick Rothfuss.
Historical Fiction	Stories set in the past, blending fact with fiction. Hilary Mantel, Anthony Doerr, Kristin Hannah.
Romance	Love stories with emotional journeys and happy endings. Emily Henry, Colleen Hoover, Tessa Dare.
Nonfiction & Memoir	True stories, essays, and explorations of real life. Tara Westover, Michelle Obama, David Sedaris.
Biography & History	Lives of notable figures and events that shaped the world. Walter Isaacson, Erik Larson, Doris Kearns Goodwin.
Self-Help & Growth	Practical wisdom for personal development. James Clear, Brené Brown, Atomic Habits.
Poetry & Essays	Verses and reflections that distill experience into language. Mary Oliver, Amanda Gorman, Joan Didion.
